

Mrs. Rizzuto's Technology Disclosure Addendum

PHOTOGRAPHS: Throughout the year, I will take digital photos of the students in the classroom participating in various assignments and cultural experiences. By signing the disclosure statement, parents and guardians give their permission for the photographs to be taken of their child and displayed in the classroom, on the class blog (<http://elkridgeushistory.blogspot.com>), and the school website, If you DO NOT want photos taken of your child, please initial here

Technology Use in the Classroom:

I am a firm believer in using the available resources to help students learn. Many students currently own a cell phone and/or ipod touch. I would like to use those resources occasionally in the classroom to do assignments. In order to use these devices, though, I need certain rules and etiquette to be followed.

1. Students will only pull out their cell phone or i-pod touch when asked to by the teacher.
2. Students will immediately put the device away when asked to by the teacher.
3. Students will not text other students in other classes or respond to text messages that are not part of the lesson.
4. When completing a texting assignment, students will not send any inappropriate material.
5. Students will not take inappropriate pictures with the devices.
6. Students will have the ringer turned off on the cell phone at all times (including the high pitch ringers designed to be heard only by young people)
7. Students will refrain from accessing youtube or games while using the devices in class.
